RECEIVER FOR EASTERN KENTUCKY COAL CO.

LOCAL OPERATION SUED ON MORTGAGE FOR A LARGE AMOUNT.

Clyde L. Miller, of Louisa, has been appointed receiver for the Eastern Kentucky Coal company, operating in Turchlight, five miles south of Louisa. The order was made by Circuit Judge Clesco at West Liberty Tuesday, upon motion of a Hibernia Trust company to foreclose a mortgage. Attorney E. M. Vinson and a foreign attorney presented the motion to Judge Clesco. Mr. Miller took charge of the property Wednesday.

The suit resulted from the failure of the company to pay the interest on its bonded indebtedness. The amount of liability named in the suit is said to be $254,000.00. The assets are estimated to be very much less than this amount.

The troubles of this company have been serious for several months. Various causes contributed to the failure of the enterprise, some of the most important dating back to the early history of the operation. The creditors agreed several months ago to extend the time on their accounts, hoping for an improvement in the company's affairs, but this failed to help materially.

The Louisa Chemical company has a plant located on this property, on which considerable money has been spent without any returns. A change in chemists has been made recently in the hope of turning out the product for which the plant was designed.

The main office of these two corporations is at Mt. Vernon, Ohio. The chief stockholders are P. S. McConnell and J. H. Fairchild, of that place, both of whom are regarded as gentlemen of integrity.

ORES JOBE DROWNED NEAR FAIRMONT, W. VA.

At the family home in Gypsy today will occur the funeral of Ores Jobe, a popular boy of that vicinity, who was drowned while bathing in the West Fork river at Gypsy on Sunday. Relatives from Fairmont and other points will be present at the funeral.

With Gus McGraw, Ethel Conley, Mrs. E. C. Joffe and Mrs. Icy Yankey the latter two of Gypsy, Mr. Jobe was bathing at 3 o'clock on Sunday afternoon. He was attacked with cramps and although Mr. McGraw made a valiant fight to save him, he sank. In doing so he nearly carried down McGraw to his death. The body was recovered three hours later.

The deceased was aged 20 and was the son of D. T. Jobe, formerly a resident of this county. Besides his father he is survived by the following brothers and sisters: Levi Jobe, of Akron; Mrs. Corn May, of Catlettsburg, Ky.; Mrs. Edna Woods, of Anna-belle, and Hazel and Gladys of Fairmont.—Fairmont, W. DR. B. P. GARRED SUFFERS STROKE OF PARALYSIS.

A telegram last Saturday brought the sad news that Dr. B. P. Garred had fallen a victim of paralysis and was in a critical condition. His brothers, A. J. and Lee, left at once for the doctor's home in West Virginia.

Dr. Garred has been a prominent and prosperous physician for many years in West Virginia. We hope he may fully recover very soon.

LATER.—Mr. A. J. Garred has returned from Charleston and says Dr. Garred is better, with excellent prospects for complete recovery. The trouble is thought to have been caused by a small clot of blood on the brain, and his decided improvement shows that this is being absorbed or cleared away.

J. P. MALCOLM DIES.

The Wayne (W. Va.) News says: J. P. Malcolm one of this county's prominent citizens and a resident of Kenova died Saturday morning, June 3rd, aged 73. He underwent an operation a few years since, from which he did not fully recover, and it is thought that this was the indirect cause of his death.

Mr. Malcolm was united in marriage in 1864 to Miss Rebecca Pymale, daughter of the late Rev. Anthony Pymale. Mrs. Malcolm died in 1907. To this union four sons and three daughters were born, and all of whom are living as follows: J. B. A. P. L. S. and I. H. Malcolm; Mrs. Belle Owens, Mrs. Leah Pymale and Mrs. Edna Pinnell.

In 1910 Mr. Malcolm was married a second time, the last wife being Mrs. Alice Pymale, who survives him.

In early manhood Mr. Malcolm became connected with the Pleasant Valley Baptist church and continued his membership with that church until the time of his death.

INDICTMENTS FOR MINGO COUNTY ELECTION FRAUDS.

Charleston, June 14.—Indictments were returned to United States district court here today against twelve citizens of Mingo county who are alleged to have taken part in frauds in the election of 1914 at the War Eagle precinct in Mingo county. Some of them indicted are prominent citizens. One of the indictments against twelve men contains four counts. Another is against Greenway Hatfield and four others. The others not being in custody their names were not made public by the court officials.

Those indicted and whose names were made known are: R. L. Simpson, H. D. Copeley, George Kelley, W. S. Hatfield, Thomas Maynard, Nat Gibson, Ben Copeley, Noah Lester, Anton Gault, Linko Blankenship, Greenway Hatfield, and Herman Hatfield.

It is alleged in one indictment, a document containing twenty typewritten pages, that these men either directly or indirectly changed 65 ballots in the precinct where there were 167 voters to suit their own ends, destroyed some of the others and filled out enough ballots with the state of their candidates to make the number of votes in the ballot box correspond to the number of legal voters registered there. One of the counts charges that these men conspired and prevented the regularly selected Democratic election officials from serving in the capacity to which they were appointed.

The indictments were brought following evidence unearthed by a number of secret service officers from the Department of Justice, some of whom were identified recently in the Terre Haute exposure.—Herald Dispatch.

HUGHES & FAIRBANKS NAMED BY REPUBLICANS.

CHICAGO CONVENTION SELECTS ITS CANDIDATE ON THE THIRD BALLOT.

The Republican national convention at Chicago last Saturday nominated Charles E. Hughes of New York for President and Charles W. Fairbanks of Indiana for Vice President.

The nomination for President was made on the third ballot. Roosevelt ran a bad second with 124 votes out of 958. The steam roller was applied and he was flattened out, with savage glee. The Progressives nominated Roosevelt just before the Republicans ran over him, and he has indicated that he will not accept this nomination. He has a string to this declaration, however, and will decide later. The Progressives say they have been badly treated by Teddy and insist that he not desert them now.

Hughes immediately resigned his position on the United States Supreme bench. Fairbanks accepted the nomination for Vice President.

There was considerable excitement in Chicago during the week, but it was mostly on the outside of the convention.

At five o'clock this morning the headless and badly mutilated body of Dayless was found alongside the N. & W. tracks just north of the Five Mile Church on the Seloto Trail by William Hall, a section man employed by the N. & W. Nearby was found the right foot of the victim, which had been cut off, and contents of his dinner bucket were strewn along the tracks near the scene of the regrettable fatality.

WILSON & MARSHALL DEMOCRATIC NOMINEES.

NATIONAL CONVENTION AT ST. LOUIS WILL RE-NOMINATE THESE MEN.

The train bearing the Kentucky delegates was wrecked at Owensboro and one sleeper turned over and spilled the occupants. No one was seriously injured, but the delegates were forced to make the all-night trip in day coaches.

This Kentucky Delegation.

St. Louis, Mo., June 13.—The following selections were made by the Kentucky delegation to the Democratic National Convention this afternoon:

Chairman—Former Gov. James B. McCreary, of Lexington.

Secretary—H. S. McElroy, of Lebanon.

Member Credentials Committee—Lieut. Gov. James D. Black, of Barbourville.

Member Permanent Organization Committee—State Senator George G. Spear, of Frankfort.

Member Resolutions Committee—Gov. A. O. Stanley.

Member Rules Committee—E. Tom Hatcher, of Pikeville.

Member Committee To Notify Presidential Nominees—Mayor John H. Buschmeyer, of Louisville.

Member Committee To Notify Vice Presidential Nominees—R. T. Crowe, of Lagrange.

Vice Chairman—State Senator W. W. Booles, of Taylorsville.

Certified To the Convention As National Committeemen—Gen. W. B. Hal-deman, of Louisville.

In Charge Kentucky Headquarters—Oscar Vest, of Carrollton.

St. Louis, June 14.—The Democratic National Convention at its first session today heard the keynote of Americanism and peace, preparedness and prosperity sounded by former Governor Glynn, of New York, as temporary chairman and with a high pitch of enthusiasm registered by demonstration after demonstration its approval of President Wilson's peaceful conduct of foreign affairs.

The convention, which had gotten under way with such perfunctory demonstrations as marks national gatherings of the kind, soon stirred itself into roiling cheers as Chairman Glynn cited historic parallels to show that other presidents, including Republicans had adjusted threatening foreign situations without resort to war.

"The policy of the administration," he declared, "has been just as American as the American flag itself."

As he went down the list of presidents recounting their action to avoid war, the delegates caught the spirit of his argument and as he referred to each particular president some delegate would call, "What did he do?"

"He settled the trouble by negotiation," was the reply which Glynn invariably returned and the convention would roar its approval.

Bill Bryan Weeps.

William J. Bryan, as newspaper representative in the press stand, wept with emotion as Glynn pictured the victories of peace but he laughed with the crowd when a Texas delegate interrupting Glynn leaped to his chair and cried: "And don't forget that policy is satisfactory to William Jennings Bryan."

Aside from a sixteen minute demonstration which began when Chairman Glynn predicted President Wilson's reelection, Glynn's speech was sprinkled with demonstrations which he found it difficult to stem so he could go on. It was plain that the telling points on the delegates were the recital of President Wilson's efforts to keep the country at peace.

"This policy," he said, "may not satisfy the fire-eater and the swash bucker. But it does satisfy the mothers of the land at whose hearth and fireside no Jim Crowism has been placed an empty chair. It does satisfy the daughters of this land from whom brother and brag have sent no loving brother to the dissolution of the grave. It does satisfy the fathers of this land and the sons of this land who will light for our flag and die for our flag when reason primes the rifle; when honor draws the sword and when justice breathes a blessing on the standard they uphold."

The last of the words were drowned out in a roar of applause that swept the Coliseum.

"Repeat it," cried the delegates, "Repeat it!"

"All right, be quiet and I'll repeat it," responded Glynn and he did to applause and cheering.

Faced Crucial Problems.

No other president since the Civil war, Glynn said, had faced such crucial problems, had displayed a grasp of statesmanship more profound.

"Whether the course the country has pursued during this crucial period, is break and whether the principles that have been asserted as our national policy shall be endorsed or withdrawn," Glynn told the convention, was the paramount question for the voters to decide.

"No looser issue must close," said he. "No unrelated problems must confuse it."

BLIND MAN INCARCERATED.

A blind man named Shepherd, was brought here today from Louisa, by Deputy Marshal Eubanks and placed in jail on a charge of "bootlegging." He may execute bond later. His twelve year old son who goes about with him, is also being held here, with his father.—Catlettsburg Item.

GOV. HATFIELD ASSAULTS ISAAC T. MANN AT CHICAGO.

At the Republican National convention at Chicago last week, Chairman Hatfield asked the several states to announce the selection of members of the National Committee. The West Virginia delegation had agreed to make a nomination at 8 o'clock to-night, but when the other states were reporting their selections Governor Henry D. Hatfield attempted to pull the West Virginia delegation.

Isaac T. Mann, Bramwell coal operator, who yesterday was chosen Chairman, remonstrated with the Governor, advising him that he was Chairman of the delegation and that an agreement was made to select the member of the National Committee to-night. The lie of the Governor was aroused by Mann and he referred to the habitat of Chairman Mann as being McDowell county, "where you see to steal elections."

Chairman Mann retorted that "there are other thieves in McDowell county," and the Governor asked if his remarks were intended to convey the impression that he was a thief.

Mann stated that he did not. The moment chairman Hatfield announced the adjournment of the convention Hatfield walked over to the Chairman of the delegation and repeated his inquiry and again Mann replied that he had not made a personal reference to the Governor.

At the same moment the Governor struck at the millionaire coal operator. The blow was a glancing one and caught the Chairman of the delegation on the nose, bringing the claret freely. Governor Hatfield immediately rushed from the Coliseum, while the other members of the delegation restrained and remained with Chairman Mann, who was not seriously hurt and but little perturbed by the occurrence.

Mann and Governor Hatfield formerly were close personal friends before the election of the physician to the Governorship. They became estranged in 1913, when Mann sought the nomination for United States Senator, and Hatfield failed to give him his support. Their personal hostility was promoted in the recent primary contest when Mann supported Abe Lilly for the Governorship, and the Governor threw his influence to Judge Ira Robinson.

B. & O. RAILROAD TO BUILD ON LEFT BEAVER.

LINE FROM C. & O. RAILROAD TO WEEKSBURY A CERTAINITY.

Baltimore, Md., June 13.—A new railroad is to be constructed in Eastern Kentucky in the interest of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, which will tap the properties of the Elkhorn Coal Corporation, which some months ago took over the Elkhorn Mining and the Elkhorn Fuel Companies on the left fork of Beaver creek, in Kentucky, and also the coal lands of the Milwaukee Gas and Coke Company in the same territory.

The road is to be known as the Long Fork railroad, and will be approximately 30 miles in length. When put in operation it will connect with the Chesapeake and Ohio. Its completion will mean that the Baltimore and Ohio will secure the routing of coal shipments to the north and west of large acreage of coal of an excellent quality, which is in great demand for by-product purposes.

The Sandy Valley and Elkhorn Railroad was originally constructed by the Consolidated Coal Company in order to serve its coal properties in the Elkhorn Valley of Kentucky.

Weeksbury.

This is a new town planned and started possibly two years ago and then allowed to lag because of the lack of transportation facilities. It is on the left fork of Beaver creek in Floyd-co., where are found large deposits of fine coal. Contracts have been let recently for the erection of one hundred dwelling houses and it is reported that as many more will be built this season. This promises to be one of the most prosperous of the several mining towns of the Big Sandy territory.

It is reported that the contract for building the B. & O. line referred to above will be let very soon. The surveys were completed quite a while ago.

WEST VIRGINIA PROGRESSIVES.

Chicago, June 8.—Unless an agreement is reached here between the Republicans and Progressives on the national ticket there will be Bull Moose tickets in West Virginia, Progressive National Committeemen. He said: "The light vote cast in the West Virginia primary Tuesday, when not more than 50,000 votes were cast for the Republican candidates, was due to the activity of the Progressives, who advised the voters claiming allegiance to that party to remain out of the primary."

"The fact that 60,000 Republican and Progressive voters refused to participate proved conclusively that we will have but little trouble in securing the required number of petitions to place a ticket in the field."

C. & O. DETECTIVE KILLED BY NEGRO.

H. L. Volres, nge 43, a special agent of the Chesapeake & Ohio on the division which is commanded by Chief George Lenz, of Huntington, was shot to death by a negro, whom he was seeking to eject from a freight train.

Volres' assailant is said to be "Big East," a negro, who is thought to have boarded the freight train at Catlettsburg some time Monday.

Detective Volres had ejected three white men from the freight train without difficulty and, noticing the negro, ordered him to climb out of the coal car. The negro demurred, and Detective Volres ordered him to "throw up his hands." Almost at the same instant, the negro, leaning over the edge of the car, fired. As Volres fell, wounded, the negro clambered over the other side of the car and fled into the mountains. A posse was organized and is in pursuit.

A TRIP FROM CALIFORNIA TO OLD KENTUCKY.

My Dear Readers:—October last I wrote quite a long letter to the Big Sandy News of my trip to the west and was lately requested to write a letter to the NEWS of my trip back east, and if the editor will be kind enough to publish this, I promise not to bother again very soon. Of course quite a few of my friends thought Mr. Bowling and myself very much dissatisfied, and they were entirely mistaken, for we both found California the most desirable place we had ever been in. Pasadena, the city we lived in, was the best all around city we had ever heard of or read of. It could not be surpassed in its climate and beauty. It had a temperate climate the year around and the flowers were the loveliest and the oranges were the sweetest that ever grew. To the north of Pasadena stood the high Sierra Madre mountains and at its base the clean waters of the Pacific. We visited up in these mountains through the Canyons and even ventured to the peak of Mt. Wilson. This peak is one mile high and is nine miles from its base to the summit. When we visited this peak we started on our journey at 8:00 a. m. and reached the top at 2:00 p. m. This was the most trying journey I had ever had in my life and in 1 mile one grows very tired winding around. It looks at the top as if you were looping-the-loop. Mt. Lowe is just to the west side of Mt. Wilson and its altitude is 6000 feet. It has an electric railway and cable incline from Pasadena to Echo mountain, with wonderful panoramas out spread as the ascent is made. Beyond Echo mountain the electric road winds its way to the picturesque Alpine Tavern 5000 feet above the level of the sea. At Mt. Lowe, a 1000 feet higher, is reached by trail and bridge-path. The view from the mountain side by day is superb, but no less magnificent at night, when the great city below is seen outlined by its multitude of lights. Just at the foot of these mountains is Altadena with its fields of poppies in bloom which present a sight worth going far to see.

On Easter Sunday we visited Santa Catalina Island, Avalonia on the island of Catalina is reached from San Pedro after only two hours of safe and usually pleasant steaming. This is a resort with an individuality of its own.

The shore of Little Avalonia Bay sweeps around here in a graceful curve and its waters are as calm as those of a fish pond and indeed they are. No more than a big lake, with its darts of minnows and great sea monsters.

Swimming over submarine gardens you may view this world under water from the glass bottom boats. It is a fairy land of fragile beauty and the water is as clear as the atmosphere. Fishing in the deep sea near Santa Catalina is a world-renowned sport. While we were out in the glass-bottom boat a man from Norway dived 100 feet with his mouth open for three minutes, and brought back up 6 avolona shells. This man has been diving since he was six years old. After being in the glass-bottom boat we took a motorboat and went around the islands two miles to the Seal Islands and here we saw from ten to fifteen seals. These are the only seals south of Alaska.

On our way to Kentucky we saw many interesting places. One of these was San Antonio, Texas. Historical associations render this place doubly interesting. In marked contrast to the towering skyscrapers, reminiscent of the days when San Antonio was the capital of the Spanish province of Texas, many of the old time adobe are still standing. In the famous Alamo, in the heart of the city, an intrepid band of 5000 Mexican regulars in March 1836. When after 13 days the Alamo came to its glorious fall, not one of the defenders remained to tell of the siege. "Remember the Alamo" rang out as the watch word of Texan liberty. At Beaumont large oil fields are located. The Niche river here is wide and deep and dredging operations by the govt will soon make Beaumont a seaport.

At Sulphur, La., there are immense beds of sulphur believed to be the most extensive in the world.

Through all the cities and towns of Louisiana are oil fields with large oil refineries. Rice is grown at Crowley's. The mills turn out over half a million bags of rice each year. At Jeanerette is the old Gribsberg plantation, typical of slavery days. "Befo de wuh." Now we are fairly in the sugar land of Louisiana. For over 100 miles we see sugar mills on the sky line and pin glimpses of the mansions of the planters. All along here the drainage of swamps is rendering more than a million acres tillable. About 12 miles from New Orleans at Avondale, the entire train is taken aboard the largest steel transfer in the country and transported by tugs across the Mississippi river.

We arrived at New Orleans Sunday, April 30th. I forgot to mention we left April 27th. We had a stop over for the night so it was well spent. This is a very old town, rich in its record of the past. New Orleans traces back into history to 1718, when it was founded by Jean de Bienville. Along the levee here are piled the countless bales of cotton, the sugar barrels, the bags of rice and all the other products sent in from a tributary country as vast as an empire.

The Gulf of Mexico is 107 miles from New Orleans. I had always thought New Orleans was located on the gulf and probably quite a few others believed it. After leaving New Orleans we came almost due north to Memphis. All along the way were fields and fields of strawberries just beginning to ripen, so the negroes were kept very busy picking. From Memphis to Louisville we go northeast through western Kentucky. In the blue grass region hardly any one could believe Kentucky had as much beauty as it really has. As my father said, "I have always heard California was noted for its beautiful sunsets, but they can't equal those we saw in old Kentucky at our old home place on Lick creek." Of course most every Big Sandy reader knows all about Kentucky, so it would be useless for me to fill up the good little paper with more, and as my letter is getting to be rather lengthy I will close with the best of wishes for the future success of the Editor of the Big Sandy News. I remain, MRS. J. E. BOWLING, Lookout, Ky. (Formerly Alta Jones.)

Body of Woman Found In River Near Huntington.

Huntington, June 8.—The body of a partially, but expensively, dressed woman, was found in the river near Dam 28 yesterday by boys who were playing about the water.

After an inquest Coroner Gerlach expressed belief that the woman had been drowned when the Steamer Kanawha sank near Parkersburg in January.

The woman had apparently partially clothed herself in considerable haste, wearing no outer dress. The Coroner stated that he had received no report of suicide along the river, or persons missing.

The inquest showed that the victim was about thirty years old, weighed about 125 pounds, was five feet three inches in height and had black hair. On the left third finger was a gold band ring.

She had only been with Mrs. Pymale a few days prior to her death.

SEVERE PUNISHMENT

Of Mrs. Chappell, of Five Years' Standing, Relieved by Cardui.

Mt. Airy, N. C.—Mrs. Sarah M. Chappell of this town, says: "I suffered for five years with womanly troubles, also stomach troubles, and my punishment was more than any one could tell."

I tried most every kind of medicine, but none did me any good.

I read one day about Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I decided to try it. I had not taken but about six bottles until I was almost cured. It did me more good than all the other medicines I had tried, put together.

My friends began asking me why I looked so well, and I told them about Cardui. Several are now taking it.

Do you, lady reader, suffer from any of the ailments due to womanly trouble, such as headache, backache, sideache, sleeplessness, and that everlasting tired feeling?

If so, let us urge you to give Cardui a trial. We feel confident it will help you, just as it has a million other women in the past half century.

Begin taking Cardui to-day. You won't regret it. All druggists.

At Huntington no traces having been found of the whereabouts of Bennis White since he started across the Ohio river Sunday, June 4, in a boat with Mrs. Ida Estep Smith, whose body was identified Monday, the police yesterday were more than ever inclined to the theory that White's body is in the river.

SHOULD THE U. S. INTERVENE IN MEXICO?

VETERAN MISSIONARY THINKS NOT—MEXICANS ABLE TO SOLVE OWN PROBLEMS—PURSUIT OF VILLA.

"It will be a great mistake if the United States ever intervenes in Mexico," says Rev. J. W. Butler, D. D., for forty-two years a missionary in Mexico and closely acquainted with the country's conditions during the rule of five different presidents.

"The followers of Villa are greatly displeased over the recognition of Carranza. They may not approve all Villa's methods, but they will protect him from Americans or other foreign invaders. The natives will hatch all kinds of ruses to add his escape, declaring that he is wounded, dead, or disappeared from sight, when they know him to be in their midst in health. It will be almost an impossibility to capture Villa unless the local population help. The vast majority of the Mexicans want peace, but they are afraid the Americans will not allow them to retain their independence. There can never be peace in Mexico until the land question is settled."

"What do you mean by the 'land question'?"

"The native Mexican traces his entrance into the country back to 1,000 years B. C. He believes that God then gave him the land to enjoy, but Spanish conquerors cut it up into great estates, many of which are still ruled by agents who send the profits to descendants of the original owners now living in Europe. One of the greatest estates in Mexico is so owned. Whenever a leader arises and declares that he will restore the land the people follow him. Carranza, Zapata and Villa all agreed to do that."

"What is the condition of the natives?"

"He is very poor, but not broken in spirit. The better class of young men seem to have tasted a new spirit, and these are demanding liberty. But the vast majority have no education. Spain never interested herself in the education of her conquered peoples. They do not know the difference between a secular book and the Bible. During 400 years, until recently there was only one edition of the Bible published in Mexico, and that was sold at $150 per copy. Where the people remain in rural districts they are relatively ignorant. They live near to nature and the men are loyal to one wife. But when they make their homes in cities moral restrictions are largely thrown off."

"Are the Indians like those originally found in America?"

"Seventy languages and dialects are found in the country, though the official speech is Spanish. The polite speech was once French, but English has now come to be popular. Among the thirty-seven families or tribes of Indians, only three—the Yaquis, Tutos and the Mayas of Yucatan—are prone to go on the warpath. The others are peace-loving and rise only when led by religious or political fanatics who convince them that their liberty is in danger. They also are rendered unaccountable by native drinks. Pulque is the juice of the maguey plant, similar to our country plant, and it intoxicates. Tequila, a local form of alcohol, is genuine 'fire-water.'"

"What is the character of their religion?"

"Some Roman Catholics declare that they are baptized pagans. In rural regions they are almost purely idolatrous. While nominally Christian, they have degraded their religious forms until they are heathenish. Carranza insists, as do his associates, that they are not anti-Christian, but only anti-clerical—that is, they object to church officials having any hand in politics. In olden days the Protestants were persecuted, but now they are free and receive recognition. Carranza has selected some of them as office-holders in his reform

"Has mission work prospered during the war period?"

"The people are oppressed by the constant disorders and feel their human helplessness keenly. Men always turn to God in time of trouble. Hence our work was never so prosperous. The people welcome American Christians, believing that this type of religion will bring them liberty. In all the months of unsettled conditions, only two of our churches were damaged, and those were assailed by fanatically led mobs. We have nearly 100 native preachers and 150 congregations, and upwards of 5,000 children in our schools in the central and southern part of the country. The Congregationalists, Presbyterians, Baptists and Southern Methodists work in the North. We have a strong following among the young leaders, many of whom have been trained in our day and Sunday schools. We always plant a day school beside a church. Our presence there has had a quieting effect which is not measured by our numbers."

"But why do you say the United States would make a mistake to intervene?"

"Because the people would not once be contented against the United States. They argue that the territory lost of the former Mexican war will be duplicated, if they do not utterly lose their independence. None but the Mexicans themselves can solve the disordering problems among them. The people are strong enough to solve them ultimately. It would require 100,000 soldiers and at least five years to subjugate them at all."

"How can we stop the destruction of Americans?"

"This is a grave question, and methods to be employed now must be different from those which might have been employed earlier. Stiff demands, backing the present government, seem to be the surest way to secure future protection."

LIGHTNING SINGES HIS HAIR; NO INJURY RESULTS.

Augusta, Ky., June 2.—While working in a tobacco field, Theodore Powers, a farmer near Augusta, was struck by lightning, which tore a hole in his felt hat and singed his hair, but did not injure him. Albert Woodruff, who was standing close to Mr. Powers, was shocked severely, but recovered from the effects.

LETCHER COUNTY AND WHITESBURG.

What is Happening in this Rich Coal Territory of Kentucky.

WHITESBURG, KY., June 14.—

County Judge Henry T. Day advises the NEWS representative that through State Aid he will be able to build a model, splendid roadway from Whitesburg to Sandlick, as well as to rebuild and improve the main street of the town, the work to be started at once. When this is done it will give the county a fine piece of road between Colly creek and Sandlick, four miles. Perhaps the new road just completed between the town and Colly is the best to be found in Eastern Kentucky. It was made possible through the persistent efforts of Judge Day and State Aid. It is expected that the town corporation will be asked to vote a small bond issue, which with State Aid will give ample money to do the work.

County Judge Day is an enthusiastic good roads man and he will be long remembered.

Officers Friday arrested "Slim" and Henry Miller two men charged with operating whiskey and booze joints in the town of Neon in the coal fields and they executed bond for their appearance here at the August term of court. The following day they were said to be back at their notorious work selling the despised goods. It is hoped that the officers will at once put their shoulders together to bring about better law-abiding conditions in the town of Neon. There are four or five wide open establishments where whiskey, beer, etc., are being sold daily.

Edward Grimes, aged 24, was arrested aboard an L. & N. train near Lexington Saturday charged with embezzlement around Fleming and Neon. It is alleged that he fleeced a good lot of the Neon merchants. Grimes was en route to his home at Chattanooga, Tenn., when Justice Potter wired ahead and had him arrested. He will be returned to this city for trial in August.

The coal mining business over the Elkhorn and Boone's Fork field is still prosperous, the most prosperous in the history of operations in this section. A large number of new miners, largely from the Western Kentucky field, have been brought into the county during the past few days. Continued increases are to be made in the different plants in the Letcher field. There is still talk of a number of new operations to be started in the county within the next few weeks. Indications are good for a new operation near Hemphill on Younts Fork. Hazard people are said to be back of such a project. The new operation of the South East Coal Co. near Millstone seven miles from here is practically assured.

Favorable weather conditions for farming has been in evidence within the past few days following some of the coldest weather ever known at this season of the year. Farmers are in much better spirits as a result. There has been a great revival in the prospects for the Irish potato crop since the late splendid rains. The crop will, it is believed, be a fair one now.

News from Burdine on Elkhorn creek in this county announces the death a few days ago of Eld. SUCCEEDS IN TEACHING DEAF PERSON TO SING.

Columbus, O., June 2.—Teaching a deaf person to sing, a feat which hitherto generally has been considered impossible, has been accomplished by Mrs. Christian Horn, wife of a Columbus brewer, after weeks of experimenting with Magdalene Sattler, an 18-year-old Cleveland student at the State School for the Deaf here, according to announcement to-day.

Miss Helen Keller, of New York, the eminent deaf and blind student, is in Columbus to-day for the purpose of testing out Mrs. Horn's new process. Thomas A. Edison, the inventor, also is said to be interested in Mrs. Horn's experiments.

AGED RIVER PILOT PASSES AWAY.

East Liverpool, O., June 1.—Captain Albert, ninety-six years old, who as a pilot before the Civil War taught Samuel Clemens (Mark Twain) to navigate the Mississippi River is dead at his home here.

Captain Martin was well known as a riverman. He was chief mate of the Pennsylvania when that packet was wrecked by an explosion near Memphis and 260 persons killed.

He also was in charge of troop packets on Southern rivers for the Northern Government at the outbreak of the Civil War.

Portsmouth, June 5.—The following marriage licenses were issued here Saturday:

West Virginia Has Birthday On June 20th.

West Virginia celebrates her fifty-third birthday anniversary Tuesday, June 20. While the date is not set apart as a holiday a number of persons interested in the historical side of the State expressed the opinion that there should be some observance of the day and that a bill should be put through the legislature making the date at least a semi-legal holiday.

The State's division from Virginia took place in 1863 prior to the battle of Gettysburg and at a time when it seemed the northern states were lighting a losing war with the Confederate Union. Historians declare that the State probably never would have divided from old Virginia except for the Civil War. A previous attempt was made to incorporate a State in 1830 but was blocked by politicians in Virginia.

The New Plan Corn Cure That's as Sure as the Rising Sun.

be cut, picked, gouged, saved, plastered and jerked out,—they grow faster. Mr. and Mrs. Went-And-Cut-It realize it now,—they use "Gets-It!" Instead—it's the wonderful, simple corn-cure that never fails. Stops pain. You apply it in 2 seconds. It dries it once, the corn is doomed. Nothing to stick to the stocking or press on the corn. It means goodnight to plasters, salves, diggers, razors and toe-bundling. You can wear smaller shoes. Your corns will come right off, "clean as a whistle." Never inflames beauti' flesh. The world's biggest selling corn cure. "Gets-It" is sold by druggists everywhere, in a bottle, or sent direct by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Sold in Louisa and recommended as the world's best corn remedy, by LOUISIANA DRUG CO., J. H. REYNOLDS.

In interesting feature of the history of the State was the Whiskey Insurrection. Farmers, unable to sell their corn and other grains because of lack of transportation facilities, desired to make it into whiskey but were restrained by government authorities.

CASH IN ADVANCE PLAN TO BE ADOPTED

On October 15th, 1916, the Big Sandy News Subscription List Will be on a New Basis, and the Paper will be Sent Only until the Date Paid In Advance.

INCREASED COST OF PRODUCTION FORCES THIS CHANGE.

As announced in the above headline the Big Sandy News will change its policy in handling the subscription list. We are compelled either to increase the subscription to $1.50 per year or to take steps that will stop all leaks and waste. We hope by doing the latter to keep the subscription price at one dollar.

We are making announcement of our new policy several months in advance of its adoption so that all our friends and subscribers will have ample time to get on the new basis.

It has been customary from "time immemorial" almost, for country papers to extend credit to subscribers and to continue sending the paper until death, poverty, disease, hopeless delinquency, or an earthquake caused a break. This is bad business and often times very unsatisfactory. Some people get the impression that the publisher is trying to force the paper on them. This is one thing the publisher of the Big Sandy News can truthfully say he has never intended nor had any desire to do. In soliciting we do not even insist strongly upon anyone subscribing for the paper, because we never want to push it upon any person. Our efforts are directed chiefly to making a paper worth the subscription price. Nevertheless, a few people seem to think the paper is being forced upon them when it continues beyond the date paid for.

On the other hand, we have had a number of subscribers to resent our action in stopping the paper at the expiration of the period paid for, saying it was a reflection on their credit. This is the source from which we anticipated most of the trouble that is likely to come in changing to a strictly cash in advance system. But when the change is made it will be absolutely necessary to enforce it impartially. The mailing list will be in charge of an employee who doesn't know any better than to stop every subscription at its paid expiration.

Although as above stated, this proposition has two sides, we believe our friends and patrons will like the new system better. We ask their kind cooperation in establishing this more business-like plan.

Just Ice Hughes is the name applied to the Republican presidential nominee by a wag. He is noted for his coldness.

The month of May, 1916, produced a greater volume of wage increases than any preceding 12 months of American history.

We saw a headline in a daily newspaper Saturday which reads: "Hicks placed in Jail." Rather heroic treatment, but the provocation is great.

Our friend Jim Allen, of the Cynthiana Democrat, is invariably taking a humorous crack at some one in his own way. Last week he landed on Luke McLuke by crediting him with one of our home-made rhymes.

No plank was adopted at Chicago to repeal the Federal Reserve Bank Law; no candidate was found willing to break a lance in that vain fight.

If there were no other great achievement of the Wilson Administration, this Act alone would set the seal of statesmanship upon it and would afford a record for courage and wisdom upon which the party could confidently appeal to the country.

The Kentucky Republican delegates to Chicago took snap judgment on Col. John W. McCulloch, National Committeeman, and fired him off the job, electing A. T. Hort, of Louisville. After quite a bitter wrangle McCulloch gave up the fight.

Louis D. Brandeis was sworn in as associate justice of the United States Supreme Court Monday. Thus ends happily one of the bitterest and meanest fights ever made against an incorruptible man by the moneyed interests of this country.—Cynthiana Democrat.

Preparedness without militarism is President Wilson's motto. His law already enacted increases our army to ten times its past strength, with provisions for training thousands of other men each year. Large increase in the naval strength and equipment also is provided.

At the Chicago convention Edwin P. Morrow made a seconding speech in behalf of the nomination of Fairbanks, but got only half of it out of his system, as the delegates called time right in the middle of it. He spoke five minutes and wanted five more, but the convention said nay.

President Wilson will be called upon soon to appoint another Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States to take the place of Mr. Hughes, the Republican nominee for President. The court still has a Republican majority, (5 to 3) but this change will bring it within hailing distance of a tie.

Naval construction authorized during the first two years of Woodrow Wilson is just two and a half times that authorized during the same period of the Roosevelt administration, and the total naval authorization under four years of Wilson equals that under the 16 years of McKinley, Roosevelt and Taft combined.

The anti-panic law, otherwise known as the Federal Reserve System, is the greatest piece of work ever done for the prosperity of the United States. President Wilson called a special session of Congress soon after his inauguration to enact this and a new tariff law. If such a law had been in force in 1907 that terrible panic would have been impossible.

The Kaiser has hung an Iron cross on Boy-Ed, the hypochondriacal official German spy who was caught with the goods on him and fired out of this country several months ago. He tells his boy Ed that this cheap jewelry is a decoration and the kid struts around as though he believes it. The tin can that was tied to his tail by the United States completes the decoration very harmoniously.

Roosevelt has been so excited lately about "preparedness" for war that he could hardly control himself. Wonder why he didn't do all this during his seven years as President? He was fresh from the war with Spain when shot into the Chief Executive's chair, and can hardly plead the excuse that there was nothing to suggest it then. President Wilson and a Democratic Congress have made more progress toward reasonable and sufficient preparedness in three years than others have made in fifty.

President Wilson's foreign policy has been so vigorous that a lot of cowardly fellows were scared half to death at the prospects of war following his demands on Germany and England to respect the lives and property rights of the United States. But he was always right and these countries have surrendered, thus giving him repeated diplomatic victories and at the same time maintaining peaceful relations with all. His record will stand in history as the greatest of all in this line.

Louis Brandeis, the new Justice of the U. S. Supreme Court, whose confirmation was fought against so bitterly by a few men in the Senate, is a native of Louisville, Ky. He worked his way through one of the large eastern colleges and located in Boston, where he quickly went to the front as a lawyer. The late Chief Justice Fuller once declared Brandeis to be the ablest lawyer who practiced before the United States Supreme Court. He is a Jew and a consistent champion of the rights of the common people.

Judge E. C. O'Rear's son-in-law, Lieut. Richard Saufley, was killed by the falling of a hydroplane which he had kept soaring in continuous flight.

for more than nine hours. He had broken on his previous record of eight hours in the air and was returning to earth when something broke and the machine dashed to destruction. Santley was a native of Stanford, Ky., and was one of the most efficient aviators in the service of the U. S. Navy. He was a graduate of Annapolis.

One of his brothers is Sheldon Santley, newspaper publisher of Stanford, Ky., to whom the NEWS extends its deep sympathy.

The Louisville Times says editorially that a parole is equivalent to a pardon—which shows how little the editor of the Times knows about the subject. The parole of Bench Hargis is the case referred to, and a special condition is written therein providing that one drop of liquor shall cause him to be returned to the penitentiary, and a member of the new Board of Prison Commissioners is specifically pledged to enforce this provision if it be violated. Would a pardon put any restraint whatever upon him? No. He would have to be tried and convicted of another felony before he could be returned to prison.

It is very noticeable that not one of the political critics of President Wilson's Mexican policy suggests any other way to handle that complex situation. All they can do is to condemn in a general way, and the public is not going to be fooled by any such rot as that. Not one of these fellows has nerve enough to say he wants to enter upon a war with Mexico that would last several years and cost more lives than our entire army contained when Wilson became President. The same conditions, except Villa's raid, existed while Taft was President. He said the cost of war with Mexico was too great to seriously consider entering into it. The truth is that Wilson has followed the best possible course and will work it out satisfactorily.

The dissatisfaction over the change in the schedule of the Big Sandy division of the C. & O. continues unabated. In addition to the general objection of Big Sandians, howls are going up from those who miss connection at Ashland and Catlettsburg and are forced to stay over night, or who hire an automobile for points that can be reached the same evening in that way. This has been done for passengers coming as far as Louisa. The railroad officials ought to be able to figure out some of the damage being done to the C. & O. by this idiotic change. They are in the attitude of ignoring public convenience and public sentiment, with no reason or excuse to offer for their action. It may become necessary to take the matter up with the Railroad Commission.

A Farmer's Exchange Trunk Line of the River and Adams Telephone company at Charley, Ky., was connected with the Louisa Kentucky Exchange of Southern Bell Telephone company of Kentucky on June 7, 1916. This is an important connection and will be greatly appreciated by all the Louisa subscribers, as well as all telephone users. This connection practically puts the subscribers of the Charley Exchange in touch with all of the Louisa Exchange subscribers and Farmer's Line connection of Lawrence county, while at the same time they can be, when they so desire, connected to "Talk Long Distance" with the Bell Telephone system.

Our buyers have made purchases far in advance of the present crisis and as a result we are "prepared" to make this the greatest event of our 22 years of successful merchandising. Delicious ice cream and cake served. Miss Virginia received lots of nice gifts and good wishes for many more happy birthday days. The out of town guests were Mrs. Millard Chambers and children and Miss Garnet Bartram, of over on "the Point."

Rev. H. H. Hewlett went to Johnson county last week and on Friday conducted the funeral of Miss Lora Wells, a young woman. She was the daughter of Lake Wells, who lives near Offutt, and had been an invalid the greater part of her life. She was a relative of Mrs. Hewlett.

Children's Day was appropriately observed last Sunday at the Mt. Pleasant Sunday school two miles below Louisa. A splendid program had been prepared and the manner in which it was executed reflected much credit upon both the instructors and the children. A fine basket dinner was much enjoyed by the large crowd present. The Yatesville and Potter Sunday schools were visitors and a very large number from Louisa attended and report a delightful time.

GASOLINE PLANT.

The West Liberty Courier says: R. B. Denham and Dr. S. R. Collier returned Friday from West Virginia and Ohio where they had gone to purchase machinery for a gasoline plant which will probably be located at Caney City. We understand that a test of the gas from some of wells in that field show a heavy high percentage of gasoline and this enterprise bids fair to assume large proportions in the near future.

We are glad to welcome Mr. Denham and his associates to our county and trust that our citizens will show them every courtesy and cooperate with them in every way possible to make their venture a success.

It means much to these people to have sound business men among them.

ADDRESSED MINISTERS.

Rev. A. W. Hamilton, pastor of the Methodist church Olive Hill, Ky., addressed the Methodist Ministers' Association, which met in conference yesterday. He was chaplain under General Kitchener in the Lady-smith (South Africa) campaign, and related reminiscences of the great militarist.

He said General Kitchener preferred single men as officers, as the married ones indulged in social gaieties, India, he believes, will ask for autonomy. He lived there a number of years.

THE HOME CIRCLE AND ITS INTERESTS.

Column Dedicated to Tired Mothers as They Join The Home Circle at Evening Tide.

We wonder how many of our readers have noticed the difference between the man who has been married but a short time and one who has been married several years. You can always tell a young husband from an old one. When a man has been married a few months, you will generally see him working in the garden or fixing up about the house and while he works he whistles, or sings, or occasionally looks up toward the window to see if anyone is watching him. A year later he is still working in the garden but the smile has been exchanged for a frown and he occasionally looks up towards the house wondering why in thunder breakfast is not ready. Another year rolls by and his looks would sour milk, but he is still at work, stopping occasionally to kick the dog or throw a brick at the cat. The next year we find him sitting on the porch smoking a pipe while his wife does the digging in the garden. Now just watch our young men, as one by one they are caught in Cupid's net and see if this rule does not work out the problem correctly.

Verse 22, chapter 7, of Ezra, has all the letters of the alphabet except "J." Just brush the dust off your Bible and see if this is not true.

Whether at home or abroad always speak a good word for the town in which you live. It will surprise you what an added respect for the town you will have after you have followed this rule for a short while.

A man who sits by the fire; smokes his pipe and reads the newspaper, while his little frail wife carries the water and fuel, fixes up the fire to keep him warm, is not worthy of such a woman's willingness.

With the living expenses so outrageously high it is difficult to make both ends meet. As a rule, and by compulsion, we make one end oatmeal and the other end fried potatoes and in the middle we are sometimes lucky to have smoked sausage.

WALBRIDGE.

The Children's Day exercises held here Sunday evening were quite a success in every particular. There was a large, appreciative and intelligent audience and they were well entertained by our bright boys and girls, with many songs, dialogues and recitations which were well rendered. The manner in which the program was carried out reflects great credit on the ladies who had charge of the affair. The leaders with the assistance of others were Mrs. Jay Hardwick, Mrs. Alex Stump and Mrs. Sammie F. Clark. The people of the community feel very grateful to these ladies for the interest they have taken in training their children in this inspiring and useful work. All who missed this certainly missed something well worth the effort of going to see. Our Sunday school also is increasing each Sunday, both in point of interest and attendance, and we believe these results were mainly brought about by "Go-To-Sunday School Day" and that this is a grand movement for the advancement of the Sunday school cause, thereby elevating the standard of morality and religion throughout our country.

OBITUARY.

On May 29, 1916, the pale horse and its rider winked its light into the home of Harvey Jobe, Jr., and called for its victim a good wife and a loving mother. As we often hear it said a good christian mother makes a happy home and the hand that rocks the cradle rules the world. To know Malissa was to love her. She was married to Harvey Jobe, Jr., Jan. 27, 1878, and to this union twelve children were born, all of whom are living save two who have gone on to the silent city of the dead from which no traveler has never returned. She leaves to mourn the loss of a mother a companion, five girls and five boys and I say to you dear children prepare to meet dear mother around the shining throne of God. Now the home is sad and lonely. Mother's place can never be filled. Her place is vacant around the fire side, her place is vacant at the table and no more she can cherish her dear children and share the companion of her husband in time of sorrow and trouble. Dear Nannie, Lindsey, Lizzie, Vessie and younger children we know your hearts and homes are saddened and lonely, but prepare to meet mother in heaven where no goodbyes are said and then the home circle will never be broken and all form a happy band and weeping for mother will be no more. All was done for her that loving hands could do by physicians, relatives and friends but it was all of no avail, for God saw fit in his infinite wisdom and called her and she had to go. Rev. Berry preached her funeral to a large and attentive congregation and her remains were laid to rest in the family graveyard over looking the home of the bereaved members of her good family.

Her daughter, Mrs. Jay Rose and two children of Council Grove, Kans., arrived in time to see her buried.

MRS. W. M. C.

VIOLET, WHO GAVE US YOU?

Violet of deepest blue
Wonder every year anew
Who, gray tell me, gave us you;
Violet of deepest blue?

Violet of purest white
Peeping out from Winter's night
Who gave you for our delight;
Violet of purest white?

Violet of white or blue
Tell me, now, who gave us you;
Sun, or rain, or quickened sod,
All of these—or was it God?

Yes, I surely saw you nod
At the mention, then, of God.

Bulletin No. 3

Why Not Face the Facts About Armor Competition?

To the People:

The policy of the United States Government for many years has made real competition in armor-making ineffective.

The Government might have asked the three armor plants for bids and let the entire tonnage to the lowest bidder. That would have made competition effective.

The result of such a course would have been to drive two of the three manufacturers out of business, and leave the country with facilities of only one plant in time of need.

The Government in fact has always asked for bids from the three manufacturers, but no matter what the price quoted, each year's business was divided among them.

Armor makers serve but one customer—the Government, just as a public utility serves but one customer—a community.

The solution of the public utility problem is regulation of rates.

The solution of the armor problem is for the Government to fix the price.

We voluntarily agree to accept any price fixed by the Federal Trade Commission. Isn't acceptance of that offer better than the destruction of an industry built solely to serve the Government?
